LEHI, UTAH, THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1904.

NO. 41

INDORSED ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT.

At the Republican State convention held in Salt Lake last Friday, the following resolutions were adopted instructing the Utahns to support Theodore Roosevelt for President:

Resolved, that the Republicans of Utah in convention assembled congratulate the country upon the unanimous public sentiment which demands the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for President.

We heartily endorse his wise and fearless administration; and particularly his banishment of corruption from public office; his driving illegal combinations and trusts from their hiding places; his recognition of the Republic of Panama and concluding the treaty for the construction of the interoceanic canal; his liberal interpretation and execution of the irrigation law upon which the intermountain country so essentially depends for further growth; his brilliant foreign policy during a period of peculiar difficulties which has won for the United States the admiration of the world.

And we instruct our delegates to the national Republican convention to be held in Chicago to vote for Theodore Roosevelt for President of the United States, and we pledge to him the undivided and enthusiastic support of Utah Republicans in November's election.

THE DELEGATES.

George Sutherland of Salt Lake.
Willard F. Snyder of Pinte.
C. E. Loose of Utah.
H. Bullen, jr., of Cache.
L. W. Shurtliff of Weber.

The Socialists.

The delegates to the Socialists' convention met on Wednesday in the Federation of Labor Hall, Salt Lake City, and made a new organization after a little riot. E. S. Lund of Lehi, and former secretary, stated that the meeting was out of order and refused to make a report of the financial standing. The convention, it is reported, practically told Mr. Lund to go, opened new books and proceeded. A new constitution was adopted, the old due system abolished and representation fixed on the basis of votes cast. C. E. Randall of Salt Lake, was elected delegate to the national convention. The following were elected members of the state committee:

Salt Lake County—H. P. Burt, Peter Johnson, O. E. Paterson.

Weber—Joseph McLachlan, Grant Snyders.

Utah—George B. Hobbs, A. J. Porter.

Summit—Joseph P. Langford, O. T. Johnson.

Several Improvements

The city fathers have made several pleasing improvements at the city park. They have just finished putting down a new hard wood floor which is a delay, and there will be no need of the young people going elsewhere to dance hereafter. The contemplation is to move the stand to the west end of the building which will be a good improvement. The graveling around the building is a good thing, and the moving or closing of the gate at the east end is a wise move. The new out houses are a credit to the place.

TO ORGANIZE A COMPANY OF THE NATIONAL GUARD

American Fork, April 12, 1904.

EDITOR LEHI BANNER:

Under the direction of Gov. Wells, Lieut.-Col. Greenwald has begun a movement to strengthen the National Guard of Utah. It is my pleasure to announce that northern Utah county has been requested to furnish a company of infantry for this purpose. Initiative steps have been taken at American Fork with commendable results; some twenty enlistments having been made up to this time with bright prospects for a score more. At the beginning of next week the recruiting officer will be in Lehi and expects a similar demonstration.

Space will not admit of a lengthy exposition. Suffice it to say, that the enlistment oath reads for three years' service and promises feasible opportunities to ambitious young men during that period. Splendid equipments, as uniforms, arms, ammunition, etc., are furnished on requisition and assigned to the company soon after its being mustered in.

One should discriminate between the regular soldier and the state militiaman. The former is usually a person with little ambition, a dreg of society, in fact, a tramp in uniform; while the latter is of a higher order of society, largely the person engaged in business or close confinement who takes advantage of the Guard as a means by which to secure recreation and good health. The compensation of a militiaman is considerably more satisfactory than is the regular soldier's.

It to be hoped that Lehi will consider the recognition of Mr. Greenwald's in the same light as does Am. Fork, that the movement will receive the adherence and adhesion of Lehi's prominent citizens, that the city's air may be dignified, that the bestowal of honor by executive authority may be appreciated, and that Lehi's patriotism and love for the flag may be vividly demonstrated.

Very respectfully,
L. E. DUNCAN,
Captain of Company and Deputized Recruiting Officer.

AMUSEMENTS.

The attraction announced for the 15th of April at the Opera House—Friday 15th—is the New York Casino success "The Telephone Girl," by Hugh Morton and Gustave Kerker, the same dual authors who are responsible for the majority of the big musical productions which have won fame at that house, and later on throughout the country. This play like its predecessors, has a plot that is subsidiary, a thread so to speak, upon which to hang a lot of smart dialogue, peculiar comedy, pretty music and for the display of pretty maidens, handsome gowns, and quite elegant stage mountings. During four seasons it has ranked as one of the prominent attractions and this season it is said, will prove more entertaining than ever. For the reason that added features of importance and calculated to enhance the merit of the production are in evidence. The comedy is in two acts. The first shows it will be remembered, the interior of a central office of a telephone company, with a galaxy of handsome maidens seated in front of their electrical apparatus. The second is the home of Beauty Fairfax, a Metropolitan footlight favorite. In both scenes the liveliest sort of fun predominates, and singing by good voices and dancing by clever people, together with other features of a most diverting description serve to keep the audience in excellent humor.

The Debate.

The debate held on Friday night in the Tabernacle was a most pleasing and interesting one. Subject, "Shall Panama Be Annexed to the United States?" Those who participated in the debate very much surprised those who listened to them to see the able manner in which they all handled the subject. The affirmative was led by Miss Dulcie Webb, and was it not for a delicacy we have in regard to her we could say much for her. We will say this much, however, that her delivery, argument and language were as near perfect as mortals generally arrive at in debates. Mr. Trinnaman, who followed Miss Webb for the negative, presented his side of the question very nicely, and especially so when it is considered that it was the first time that he ever addressed himself to the public. His language was good, but he was rather weak on the force of argument. Mr. Orin Lewis, for the affirmative, was splendid on argument, force and making his points, but he would do well to pay a little attention to the choice of words and the grammatical use of them because it detracts much from the other good qualities he possesses. Mr. John Fox, for the negative, presented his side of the question very good. His language was excellent, but his argument lacked force and we doubt he lost some points because of this. Mr. Alfred, for the affirmative, was equal to his subject. His argument and force were good, but he lost a point or two on his comparisons, which were not quite logical. Mr. Gudmunson, who closed the negative side, was rather more funny than argumentative. He was not quite enough on his guard in regard to some of his statements and laid himself open to the rebuttal which was to follow by Mr. Lewis, who took him to task in good shape on some of his statements.

The judges were Messrs. James Worlton, Peter Peterson and John Woodhouse. Their decision was that the affirmative beat on argument and delivery, and the negative on grammar. To all the people who took part we
